BIG INCREASE FOR COAST BUILDING

Glendale Establishes Great Record In Competition With Many Cities

With building permits totaling $1,126,521 for July, 1924, Glendale stood third in Southern California and sixth in the state, an increase of 99 per cent over July a year ago and 196 per cent over July, 1922. The increase of June, 1924, over June, 1923, was 12 per cent, the total being $1,000,785 for that month of this year. These figures are from the official records in the office of H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent.

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The Pacific coast building boom has shot into high again.

The increased momentum of the coast construction program was revealed in statistics made public today by the national monthly building survey of S. W. Strauss and company.

The total of $38,603,212 in building permits issued in July in 74 cities comprising the Pacific coast section of the survey was 11 per cent greater than June and was the first monthly total to show an increase over the preceding month since that of February. The total was but slightly under the record-breaking figures of July, 1923.

Report Increase
Los Angeles contributed a total of $11,599,782 to the grand total—a twelve per cent increase over the previous month.

In the Los Angeles metropolitan area fifteen municipalities reported $15,621,585 for July, a ten per cent increase over June, but a 20 per cent decrease from last July.

San Francisco reported $3,988,466 for July, an increase of two per cent over June and 23 per cent increase over last July. The San Francisco metropolitan area including twelve municipalities reported a July total of $9,629,284, a jump of 17 per cent over June and 31 per cent over last July.

Oakland Scores
Seattle's July total of $2,061,110 represented a slight decrease over June and a 51 per cent reduction over a year ago.

Portland reported $2,048,145, which was a 12 per cent reduction over June but a gain of 33 per cent over July a year ago.

Oakland scored the biggest monthly building record in its history with $3,350,532 in permits, or a 32 per cent leap over June and a 72 per cent increase over last July.

Long Beach reported $1,419,968 for July, a six per cent reduction from June, but a 3 per cent increase over last July.

Glendale showed a gain of 12 per cent over June and 99 per cent gain over July a year ago with a total of $1,126,521.

San Diego had a marked reduction, her July total of $879,080 representing a 42 per cent drop from June and 25 per cent reduction from last July.

Anaheim with $52,780 leaped far ahead of her June figures of $13,600, but fell short of July of last year.

OPPOSE SINCLAIR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The United States, through Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, the government's special oil counsel, today filed a brief in the District of Columbia supreme court, opposing the application of Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate, for a special appeal from the court's decision upholding the indictment charging him with contempt of the Senate.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—May Simmons, through her attorney, Margaret Yale of Burbank, today filed suit for divorce against Floyd F. Simmons, who, she alleges, deserted her in Los Angeles on July 30 of this year, saying, "It's all over."

EDITORIAL Old Time Politics

There was a time in the early history of this country when men, over-ambitious to hold office, would ride into power on pre-election promises. The office holder would have a man "Friday" in every community in the district, who was desirous of the distinction of carrying the vote of the community in his vest pocket. For stipulated promises, this man "Friday" would agree to deliver a majority vote to the candidate in question. Sometimes the scheme worked all right and sometimes it didn't work—its success depended upon the gullibility of the people.

The old time pre-election campaign stunt is being pulled off in Glendale at present by a candidate who now holds office by appointment. The office is one of the most important in the county of Los Angeles, and should be filled by a man who stands above the ward politician class.

The approaching primary election brought the ward politician out from his hiding place, prompted him to choose his man "Friday" and get busy on election promises.

Judging from talks given at club luncheons, the county's money vaults are bursting full of appropriations for the Glendale district of the county—$100,000 of an appropriation in one instance and $60,000 of an appropriation in another instance. "Ask and ye shall receive" seems to be the pre-election slogan of this candidate.

Just why these appropriations become available so near election time is a query in the minds of the thinking voter. The San Fernando road needed widening and rebuilding a year or so ago. The Sycamore Canyon wash has been in need of county aid for many years. There will be other improvements needed a year, two years and three years in the future. Do we want a man in office who will cause us to wait four years until the next election campaign before he will realize the needs of this district?

To the writer, this mode of campaigning is disgusting, and has the appearance of old time ward politics. Surely it is just and right that this rapidly growing territory of the county should have appropriations, but such appropriations should be made without any reference to pre-election promises.

CASH PRIZES DISMISS ALL FOR SAFETY LETTERS ARRESTS BY OFFICERS

Send In Your Ideas at Once for Contest Closes On Saturday Night

The Glendale Evening News will give $10 to the writer of the best letter, containing 200 words or less, on traffic rules and regulations that will, when followed, make for more careful driving and general safety, both for occupants of autos and pedestrians. And $5 will be paid to the writer of the next best letter.

Details of the contest appear on page 3 of this edition of The Glendale Evening News. Read the requirements, then write a letter—for yours may be the winner of a prize.

Pastors to Aid
Furthering its plans for Safety Week, August 10 to 16, inclusive, The Glendale Evening News has forwarded to every minister in Glendale a suggestion that he bring before his congregation next Sunday the importance of observing Safety Week.

A number of the pastors have already assured The Glendale Evening News that they will announce Safety Week from the pulpit. Speakers arranged for by this newspaper have been and will continue to bring before luncheon clubs the importance of Safety Week.

Everywhere in Glendale citizens are congratulating The Glendale Evening News for its enterprise in bringing Safety Week into being.

DR. YOUNG IN AIR CRAFT ACCIDENT

Physician and C. S. Story, His Passenger, Unhurt In Strange Crash

The airplane "Argonaut" of Dr. T. C. Young of 400 North Kenwood street was wrecked at 9:30 o'clock this morning in a spectacular crash at the Glendale airport off North San Fernando road. In the plane at the time were Dr. Young and C. S. Story, propeller manufacturer of 1540 North San Fernando road. Neither was injured.

The Argonaut is the ship in which Glendale's first airplane marriage was performed Saturday, July 26, uniting Miss Emily L. Pierce and Thomas V. Philp of this city. Dr. Young piloted the ship that day and Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church of Glendale, was the flying parson.

Witnesses Crash
W. B. Kinner, manager of the airport, was a witness of the crash, which he declares was caused by an adverse wind, which pushed the ship over the dirt road continuation of Grand View avenue. Hitting a rough crest, the shock cord broke and the landing gear let down, digging into the ground and overturning the plane.

Rushing to the scene, Mr. Kinner found Dr. Young and Mr. Story suspended, head down, inside the cabin, held by their safety belts, which alone protected them from serious injury. Releasing the snaps, they clambered out, grinning at their fantastic mishap.

It had been a morning of mishaps, according to Dr. Young, the pilot. Owing to the fact that the wind was wrong, they were compelled to fly under the city's power lines at the south end of the field, in taking off, and narrowly averted disaster. With such a poor start, they clipped the tops of the trees as they zoomed up and witnesses thought a crash was inevitable.

Strike Highway
The propeller, moreover, was not giving proper results and the ship cruised loggily above the field, coming down in less than five minutes. The landing was

Oil Companies Drill Wells Near Ensenada

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—With one well owned by the Anglo-American Oil company already down 1300 feet and two additional British and American oil companies ready to start extensive operations, drilling for oil on Cape Colnett, near Ensenada, Mexico, has been started.

The motorship Gryme sailed for Ensenada last night with supplies for the Anglo-American company and another trip by the Gryme will be made next week to carry additional supplies, it was learned today.

A gold strike is also reported to have been made in the famous Los Amos fields and is said to have caused great excitement in Ensenada.

Cross Country Flyer Will Test Gift Plane

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—Lieutenant Oakley Kelly, who, with Lieutenant Macready, successfully piloted the monoplane T-2 from New York here in a non-stop transcontinental flight, was today scheduled to take off from Rockwell field for Portland, Ore., in a De Havilland type plane, which was presented him yesterday. The plane is said to be the last word in flying machines.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—That Mrs. Anna Mumley, 40, shot and killed her husband, Jack, and then committed suicide, was the verdict of a coroner's jury filed today in San Bernardino. The double tragedy occurred at Lake Arrowhead.

OPTIMISTS IN FAVOR OF PROJECT

Members by Standing Vote Give Endorsement to The News' Idea

The Glendale Optimist club, by a standing vote, endorsed The Glendale Evening News Safety Week, at their luncheon today in the Alley Inn, following the presentation of a motion to that effect by Leslie Tarr, assistant city attorney, seconded by Walter P. Potter.

Dr. Orrie B. Ghrist, who has charge of the program for Friday, August 15, stated that he would endeavor to secure for that date, Miller McClintock, one of the recognized authorities on traffic, to address the club, in the interests of the advancement of the principles advocated for Safety Week.

Mr. McClintock, Dr. Ghrist stated, comes to this state to assume charge of a department at the University of Southern California, and brings to his duties here the experience gained during his studies at Stanford university and at Harvard, where he held the Sheldon fellowship.

The Glendale Evening News Safety Week cards were distributed at the places of the members of the club.

Urges People to Act
Peter Hanson, reporting for the civics committee on the regulation of traffic in Glendale, also endorsed the plans for Safety Week in his address. Mr. Hanson urged that the people of Glendale, as well as of other sections, should study the law-enforcing machinery of the state and of their own communities; that they should co-operate with the authorities in enforcing and observing the laws; declared that a spirit of fairness on the part of the courts and the officers would be reciprocated by the public; and favored the endorsement of all honest efforts on the part of the police department to improve itself in any way.

Mr. Hanson criticized the action of officers who are said to hide in order to arrest violators of the traffic laws. The setting of a trap for criminals is justified, he claimed, but not in the case of the average citizen who may unintentionally violate the law.

"In many respects," said Mr. Hanson, "the procedure of our courts is conducted along obsolete lines, and this condition should be changed by bringing the system of administering justice down as nearly to the present day as possible. I want it clearly understood that I am not making any aspersions on Judge F. H. Lowe in what I say, but in the police courts of today the presiding judge too frequently takes the statement of the arresting officer and disregards whatever the accused may have to say. The only recourse that the accused has is to file a bond, pay the cost of a jury and go through the long drawn tangle of a trial. This is another condition that calls for prompt and effective remedy."

"Last year," declared Mr. Hanson, Judge Lowe and some

Drive When Driving

Ask yourself this question. When you are driving, are you giving strict attention to the business of driving? Is your mind always on the job?

If so, you cannot justly be called a "jay" driver. Remember that the width of the street will remain the same, but traffic—both vehicular and pedestrian—changes with each revolution of the wheels of your car, and if you are not making a business of driving, with your mind on the job, you are not in a position to meet these changing situations as they occur.

Never become so engrossed in conversation that you are not alert to all your surroundings. Do not turn to carry on a conversation with those on the rear seat, or those beside you, but keep your eyes straight ahead and on the lookout for all conditions that may arise and for traffic that might cross your path.

DON'T BE A "JAY" DRIVER!

PROPER ADJUSTMENT OF HEADLIGHTS NECESSITY FOR CAREFUL DRIVING

Motorists Should Make Certain That Their Night Equipment Is In Perfect Order Or Serious Accidents May Result

One of the big factors of The Glendale Evening News' Safety Week is the proper care and adjustment of headlights, automobile dealers and drivers point out, as numerous accidents are caused nightly on the highways by glaring lights.

"Statistics show an appalling loss of life, limb and property, directly caused by improperly adjusted headlights, which, in most cases, are the result of carelessness on the part of motorists through the little care that is given headlight adjustment," declared Captain W. F. Cannon, commanding officer of the Los Angeles county motor patrol. "Give the same care to your headlights as you do to the air in your tires, or the oil in the engine."

Official Stations
The official headlight testing stations in Glendale, according to the list furnished by Captain Cannon, are:

Blackburn Battery station, 1023 East Broadway; Cizek Auto Electric company, 300 South Brand boulevard; Gardner Auto Electric company, 106 West Harvard street; Parker & Black, 113 West Harvard street; Psenner Brothers, 601 South Brand boulevard; Jesse E. Smith company, 115 West Colorado street, and Westinghouse Battery station, 306 South Glendale avenue.

The drive made by the division of motor vehicles, under the supervision of W. H. Marsh, chief of the division, is a move to lessen the danger of night driving by glaring lights, motorists declare.

KIWANIS IS READY TO SUPPORT

Organization Hears Talk By News Representative; Applaud Purpose

Members of the Glendale Kiwanis club showed their approval of The Glendale Evening News' Automobile Safety Week idea today noon at the meeting held at the Tuesday Afternoon club when M. D. Davis, a member of the Kiwanis club and The Glendale Evening News staff, outlined the appalling loss of life and property yearly traceable to automobile accidents.

"It is a worthy cause," A. L. Baird, president of the Kiwanis club, said, after Mr. Davis had briefly outlined the purpose of The Glendale Evening News' Automobile Safety Week. "There is no question in my mind, and I don't think there is any question in the mind of any member of this club, but what the number of automobile accidents can be cut down by the exercise of care and caution."

"We are grateful to Mr. Davis and to The Glendale Evening News for bringing before us these facts, ghastly as they are, and every member of the club should give serious thought to these matters."

At each place had been placed cards calling attention to The Glendale Evening News' Automobile Safety Week, and during the luncheon many members of the club were heard to express their approval of the idea and their willingness to do their share in helping to eliminate automobile accidents.

For Flood Control
The plans for the construction of flood control work in Sycamore Canyon, prepared by J. W. Reagan, chief engineer for the county, will be submitted to the Board of Supervisors for their approval on Monday, Supervisor Henry W. Wright told the members of the club. He advocated the plan of the county helping Glendale to care for flood waters passing through the city. Details of the dedication of the $800,000 county headquarters for patriotic organizations were told by Supervisor Wright, and he briefly discussed the new budget for Los Angeles county, off the press only yesterday.

William S. Dehmel, president of the Kiwanis club at Pomona, spoke on "Kiwanis." He urged the members of the Glendale club to adopt a definite program, and look after the development of the individual member.

The great danger of the present time, he said, is the fact that man has not developed his material advantages, and depends too much on the machine age that surrounds the country today. Man is not the master of a machine, he said, but the slave. There are no craftsmen in any line today, he declared, who can produce the work that the men of a hundred years ago produced, for the creative spirit has been stilled by the advancement of machinery.

Official Coming

The attendance prize, donated by Guy H. Gibbs, was won by R. M. Brown. President Baird announced that next week William Brown, former district governor of Kiwanis, will be the principal speaker, and will outline the work of the various committees. Chairmen of committees were instructed to give a complete report ready to give at the next meeting.

P. J. Hayselden told of the work of the Angeles Forest Fire Protective unit and said the Chamber of Commerce and the

VALLEY TOWNS TO AID EXPOSITION

Industrial Show to Feature Educational Exhibits September 9-13

Pledges of enthusiastic co-operation are being received by the Burbank Chamber of Commerce from all civic organizations throughout the valley in making a success of the San Fernando Valley Industrial exposition, which is to be held at Burbank, September 9 to 13. Educational exhibits will be installed by every manufacturing plant in the valley, according to advices being received.

The purpose of the exposition is to establish San Fernando Valley-made products in the minds of the people, and thus encourage the factories that have already located here and possibly encourage others to select sites in a land where really values are reasonable and labor and living conditions ideal.

The crowning of the queen will feature the program of the opening day, when Burbank and Glendale will join forces in staging the program. Hollywood and Lankershim will take charge of the special event of the second day, and San Fernando and Van Nuys will prepare the third day's features. The afternoon and evening band concert, each day will be by the Burbank municipal band. The exposition will be happily free from the cheap clap-net gambling devices that mar the pleasure of the ordinary carnival.

CLUBWOMEN PICK CONVENTION CITY

Santa Barbara Chosen for Los Angeles District Sessions of 1925

With memories of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, convention last April in Glendale, still vividly in their minds, Glendale clubwomen will be interested to learn that the 1925 convention is to be held April 14, 15 and 16, at Santa Barbara. The Santa Barbara Women's club will be the hostess organization.

This announcement was made today, following a meeting of the district board yesterday at the Bank of Italy in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, district president, presided, and there were present officers and chairmen of committees. Glendale claims two district chairmen, Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Indian Welfare, and Mrs. R. W. Meeker, "Save the Redwoods." Besides, there are several Glendale clubwomen on the various committees.

Plans for the coming year were outlined and announcement made of the presidents' councils for the year. The first council will be held at 10 o'clock, Friday, September 19, at the Friday Morning clubhouse, Los Angeles. The subject will be "American Citizenship." A new plan is to be inaugurated at the council meetings is to be devoted to miscellaneous club affairs. In the afternoon the programs will

Examine Students as Lecture Course Ends

Mrs. Helen Moir, Misses Maud Soper and Helen Goldthwaite of the Glendale High school faculty, and the Misses Anabel McLellan, Ada Salstrom, Carol Dunham, Pearl Webster, Lorraine Fritch, Ruth Pawley, Evelyn Henderson, Edith Tyler, Gladys Sharpe, and J. F. McMaster, all of the city schools, are among the number of Glendale people who have taken advantage of the summer course of lectures at the University of California. The term covered a period of six weeks and final examinations are taking place today.

A special feature of the closing day will be the presentation by the class in dramatics of "Two Gentlemen of Verona," by Shakespeare.

Odd Fellows Will Be Guests of Van Nuys

The Odd Fellows met last night in the lodge room on West Broadway. During the meeting there were interesting talks by George W. Allen of Taft and E. J. Fish, also a visitor. Plans were made for a trip to Van Nuys, tonight. The lodge members will leave the hall at 7 o'clock. The second same of five-hundred will be played. Winners of the games will be guests of the losers at a chicken dinner.

represent the work of the seven departments of the district. Various chairmen will be allotted time for either presenting special speakers or else talking themselves. The council on November 20 will be held at the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse in Glendale.

FIRE CHIEFS END ANNUAL MEETING

Lankford Attends Sessions Of Entire Convention Held at Pasadena

The thirty-first annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs wound up its four days' session in Pasadena this morning, and at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the 300 delegates set out on an auto tour through the "Movie Land" of Hollywood. Tonight they will be the dinner guests of Chief R. J. Scott of the Los Angeles fire department, at the Maryland hotel, after which there will be a dance.

Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department, who has attended all the sessions of the convention, plans to be present with Mrs. Lankford at the dinner and dance tonight. He made the trip to Mt. Wilson with the visiting chiefs yesterday afternoon, and attended this morning's concluding business session, greatly enjoying the paper by Chief Thomas R. Baird of Fresno, on "Who Profits By Fire Prevention?"

The business session this morning, which was held at the Maryland hotel, was presided by the Pasadena fire department band, in a splendid concert. Having won the ball game from San Diego yesterday afternoon, by the close score of 1 to 0, thus giving her the championship of the association, "The Crown City" feels duly jubilant, declares Chief Lankford, and considers the convention another bright jewel in her crown.

Prizes To Be Offered For Best Traffic Rules; Send In Your Ideas!

In connection with the "Safety Week" being directed by The Glendale Evening News with the assistance of the Automobile Club of Southern California, automobile dealers, merchants, churches, theatres, realtors, service clubs and citizens in general, EVERY RESIDENT OF GLENDALE HOLDING AN AUTO DRIVER'S LICENSE, with the exception of employees of this newspaper and members of their families, IS INVITED TO WRITE IN 200 WORDS OR LESS RULES AND REGULATIONS THAT WILL, WHEN FOLLOWED, MAKE FOR MORE CAREFUL DRIVING AND GENERAL SAFETY, BOTH AS TO OCCUPANTS OF AUTOS AND PEDESTRIANS. Write rules and regulations on one side of the paper, sign name and address, then mail to—

SAFETY WEEK EDITOR,
The Glendale Evening News,
139 South Brand Blvd.,
Glendale, California.

The Glendale Evening News will give $10 to the writer of the best letter and $5 to the writer of the next best letter.

The contest opened August 4. It will close Saturday, August 9, at midnight. Letters postmarked after that period will not be considered for the prizes.

Here's an opportunity for YOU to outline YOUR ideas on safe and sane auto driving, and, perhaps, secure one of the prizes to be presented. Rules and regulations already in force may be used. New ones may be devised. Present ones may be changed. But, in outlining the suggested rules and regulations, keep in mind that SAFETY for life and property must be the governing feature.

Glendale Guest at Tavern Describes Beauties of Mountain Holiday

Mrs. S. E. Grant of Arbor Rest Home, 1209 East Lexington drive, writes of the pleasures of her vacation at Ye Alpine Tavern, Mt. Lowe. She says: "I am having a delightful time watching and feeding the numerous gray timber squirrels about the hotel grounds and along the trails. Little birds are so tame they come and eat crumbs from your hands. There are many blue birds, one of them quite famous because of the things written about him. He will fly down from the trail to eat peanuts from your hand."

Wonderful Vista
"Miss Hood, our official and most congenial hostess, walked a half mile to East Lexington drive with a number of the guests last night to see the sun set and watch the lights come on in the cities and towns below us."

"We can locate Altadena, Pasadena, Los Angeles, Hollywood, Santa Monica, Venice, San Pedro and a small part of Long Beach, and the numerous towns between Los Angeles and the beach. Here and there we can see automobile lights like fireflies as they come up over high points on the roads. Many searchlights here and there add beauty to the scene."

Hikers Start Early
"About 4:30 a. m. we hear raps on numerous doors of the hotel and cottages. People being called as requested so they can get up on time and go on hikes to Mt. Lowe and Mt. Wilson. Those going to Mt. Wilson rest there during the warmth of the day, starting back about 4:30 p. m. Thirteen miles round trip, makes a pretty good hike!"

Just above Inspiration Point is a black and silver fox farm, and while watching the sunset a radio at the farm was giving its usual program as clear as a bell in this high altitude."

SCARF AT SHOW
PARIS, Aug. 8.—Inconspicuously enough, the scarf is worn even with the bathing suit today. It matches the suit and is knotted loosely about the neck.

WANTS CONGRESS TO AID VETERANS

Bill Favoring Soldiers Who Fought In Civil War Needed, Is Claim

That some "honest member" of Congress would frame a bill adequately favoring Civil War veterans and their wives, as they justly deserve, is the desire expressed by Arthur W. Scudder of 320 West Harvard street, who served in the war with Battery A, First Ohio Light Artillery. Mr. Scudder says:

"I hear so much in condemnation of the president for vetoing the Bursum bill that a word of protest seems in great demand. The whole thing was a political trick. We have reason to question Senator us, when without protest he permitted so much to go on the bill that was so foreign to anything that would bring relief to those really entitled to it."

Approves Veto
"One has to wonder why the National Tribune did not put in a kick against placing men enlisting after Appomattox on a level with the four-year veterans."

"Both presidents had ample reasons for vetoing those bills, but why condemn them for not giving them their sanction, or although presidents, they were also human. In the ill-chosen reasons given by them for vetoing bills that they knew should be vetoed they used language that never should have been used by anyone against the participants in the War of the Rebellion."

"I helped to save this country from dissolution and after eight years of misgovernment, with an accompanying debt of $23,000,000,000, it is best for us to stay upon safe ground and vote for Coolidge and Dawes."

"Would that some honest member of Congress would frame a bill favoring the aged and needy people, that spent the best of their lives in the War of the Rebellion. Such a bill would readily meet the approval of the president."

Mr. Scudder was formerly a member of the N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., of Glendale, but now belongs to Stanton post of Los Angeles.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

It is a tedious thing to be always beginning to live. They live badly who always begin to live.—Seneca.

MAJORITY ARE PROHIBITIONISTS

A national magazine brings out in an editorial the truth that there really are not so many bootleggers among us as we are led to believe; that the home-still is the exception and not the rule; that there are violations of the Volstead law, but that they are becoming fewer; that we, as a nation, are adjusting ourselves to prohibition much more rapidly than any European country could or would.

Another journal claims that many violations of the Volstead law are instigated by those opposed to the law, who then point to these violations with the argument that the law cannot be enforced.

There are all too many bootleggers, and they have all too much patronage, but it may be that these violations of the law are given undue prominence. Those who are trying to enforce the law think this cannot be accomplished without giving publicity to the lawbreakers. Those who would like to see the law repealed are anxious to bring to our attention cases where the law has been flagrantly violated so that we shall see the futility of having such a law. With friends and enemies of prohibition thus working zealously to make public the names and the activities of the bootleggers and distillers it may be that we are given an exaggerated impression of the extent of the illicit liquor traffic. Then there is the joke writer who seems to think that references to the prohibition law and its violators are funny; also the fiction story and the scenario author who try to popularize this form of law-breaking and make it seem that it is frequent and common among all classes of people.

Prohibition is effective to a very large extent. There is a large class among us who have always been opposed to intoxicating liquor and who have never used it. Then there are those who have used it and would use it again if they could do so lawfully, but who respect the law. There are those who have used it but who have learned through prohibition that they are better off without it and would not take it again if they could. There are still others who do not use liquor but who might have learned to do so had not its use been prohibited by law.

When we consider the bootleggers and their somewhat extensive operations we are apt to grow pessimistic about the wisdom of trying to enforce prohibition. But when we see the entire country and observe the whole question of prohibition in its proper perspective we realize that the law is benefiting the multitudes and that only a comparatively few of our entire population are engaged in this form of law breaking.

TEN BILLION MAGIC DOLLARS

California is in the ten billion dollar class—and California has only started. Greater in wealth and in population than the thirteen original colonies, this state has earned the admiration of the world by its spirit of progress. And, let there be no mistake about what has made California great. It has been the enterprise and push of her people.

"Boosters," we have been called, and rightly. Californians have had to boost. Given a desert, they have transformed it into a garden of paradise in a brief span of years, making the rose to blossom where the cactus lurked, the grain to wave where the sagebrush rolled, and oranges to paint a brilliant strip across the state.

But, why is California in the ten billion dollar class? Because the valuation of its real and personal property, figured on a 60 per cent basis, is $5,716,785,815, as shown in the taxation report filed by Controller Riley. While much of this valuation is scattered in a thousand communities, much of it is lumped in the great cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento, the greatest and most miraculous of which is Los Angeles.

Recognizing how California has tapped its mountain torrents and transformed deserts into ranches and pueblos into cities, eastern capital has been quick to place its money on a winner. Manufacturing enterprises have come by the hundreds—and will come by the thousands. The future of California is something that only to think of tingles the blood. We should be proud to be, yes, "boosters," if those who are envious insist on calling us that, proud to be Californians. There is magic in the word, romance, poetry, beauty, destiny.

RADIO VERSUS CHILD CRIME

Who is to blame for the appalling crimes that are being committed by mere children? Some say the parents are to blame, some say the teachers, some say the children themselves. It may be any of these. After all, why place the blame? Better to seek a remedy.

By guarding our children's leisure and seeing that they get wholesome entertainment and clean associates, we can do much. It is not during the daytime that we need watch so carefully, but at night, when evil lurks.

It is during the hours of darkness that we should show our wisdom by providing the young mind with study and entertainment that will keep the child interested.

Of all the pleasures and entertainment that have come to us in recent years none offers a better or more interesting field than radio. Parents should encourage their children to study this new marvel and do all in their power to interest them in an art that provides clean entertainment, knowledge, music and at the same time KEEPS THEM AT HOME. By bringing music into the home all are helped. By listening to a good lecture all are benefited. By bringing the church services and music into the family group all are better.

If you have not already a radio set in the home, get one now and keep the boys interested at home. Tomorrow may be too late.

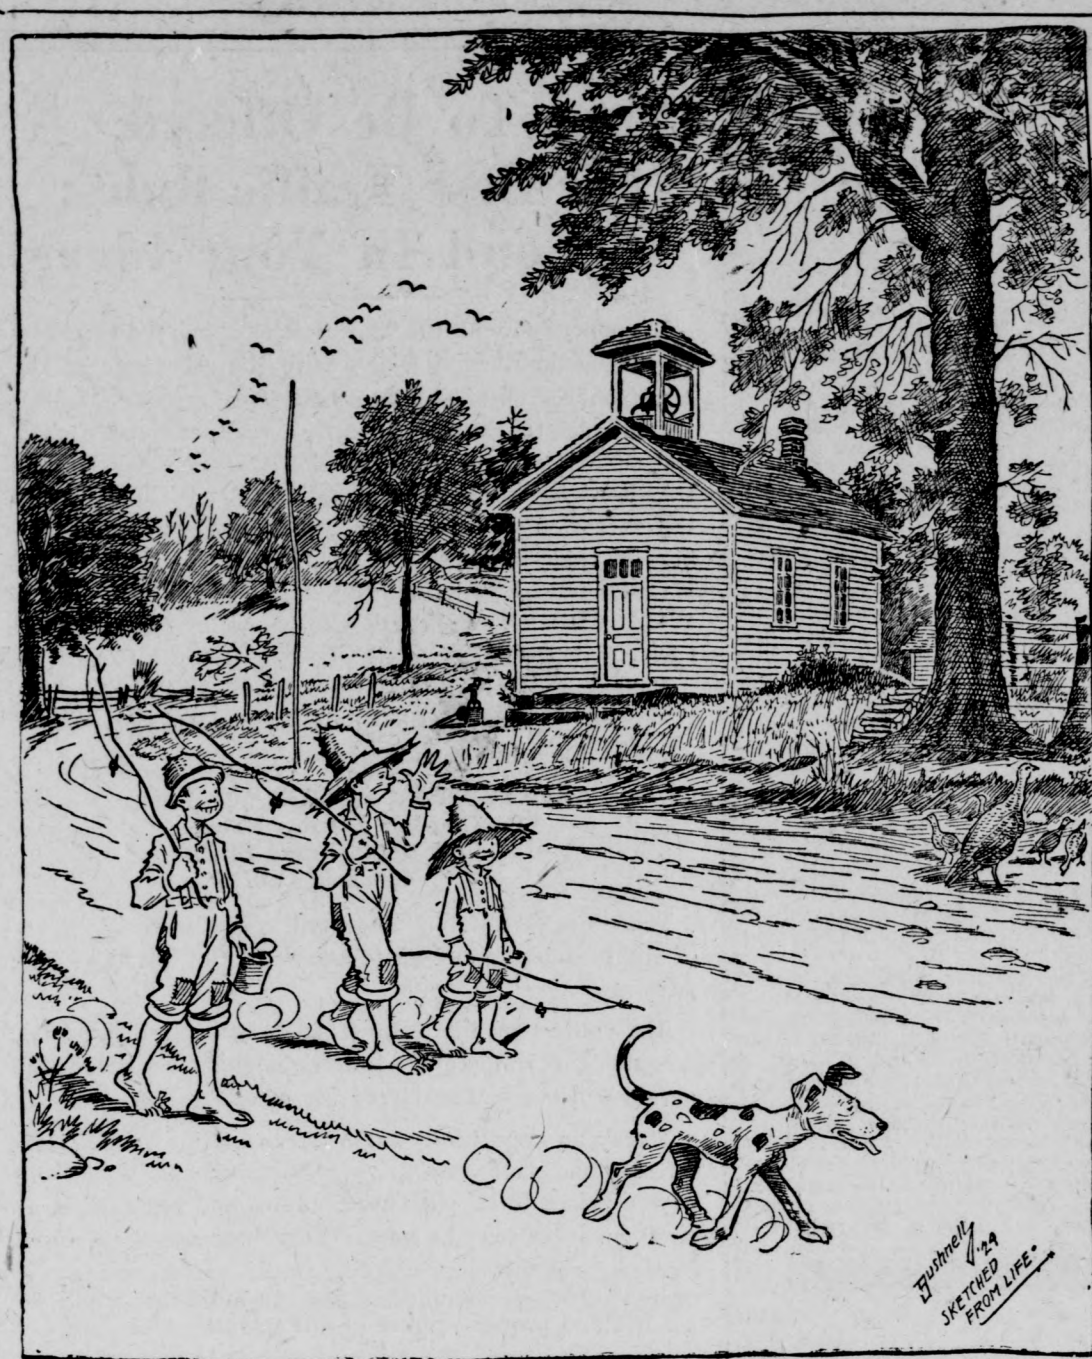

CANAL DOES BIG BUSINESS

Tolls amounting to $24,291,492 were collected during the tenth fiscal year of the operation of the Panama canal. This shows conclusively the wisdom of the United States in acquiring the canal zone and building this great gateway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, one of the outstanding engineering achievements of all time.

A total of 5,618 ships passed through during the fiscal year, which ended June 30. The total cargo was 27,218,000 tons, or a monthly average of more than 2,268,000 tons. These figures showed very substantial gains over the previous fiscal year—an increase of more than 31 per cent in number of vessels passing through the canal; an increase in tonnage of more than 40 per cent; increase in tolls, more than 38 per cent.

This showing is gratifying to all Americans, both of this continent and South America. It is particularly gratifying to the people of Southern California, who realize how much the Panama canal has meant in the development of Los Angeles as a shipping center.

WHAT COULD BE MORE LONESOME LOOKING THAN A COUNTRY SCHOOLHOUSE IN VACATION TIME?

The World Goes On

By DR. FRANK CRANE

In spite of what we do the world goes on. Men may come and men may go and each generation thinks that its interests are eternal; but the world has no interests that last except those that continue from generation to generation.

We have always had the conviction that Nature is more interested in the institution than in individuals.

That is why we have taken institutions so seriously, have contended for them and have been willing to fight for them.

Knowing that his time here is so short, man has always clutched greedily at the things which remain, has always builded his hopes around the permanences.

It has always been his desire to find those satisfactions which are permanent.

In the end all mortalities are nothing but the permanences.

We often tell the young to save their money because we feel that capital is permanent, while the satisfactions of the moment are fleeting.

Therefore men often sacrifice the pleasures of today for the more or less problematical joys of tomorrow.

There is such a thing as carrying this too far, as tomorrow may never come. A sane balance between the pleasures of today and those that are still to come is what is needed by the sane man.

It is the tendency of youth to see today only and to look upon old age as a negligible probability.

Against this tendency the experience of the old breaks itself in vain.

It has always been the desire of mankind to have the fullness and powers of youth together with the wisdom of old age. Unfortunately they do not go together.

We never learn how to live, nor the values of life, until we are ready to die, and then it does us no good.

It is a singular thing that all men live as if they were to live forever, yet all men, some time or other, must die.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

Do women really want equal rights with men or do they want all the privileges that men enjoy and then some more? If women were on an exact equality with men we have a number of laws supposed to benefit the former that would have to be repealed. The women who howl the loudest about their rights are the first to become sarcastic if a man fails to give them a seat in a street car or to take off his hat in an elevator where there are women passengers. They want all the privileges that a man enjoys but they want men to treat them as though they were the weaker sex.

On the other hand I despise a man who says that now that women have the ballot he sees no reason to grant them the courtesies that it has been customary for men to show to women. I think a man who refuses to give up his seat in a street car to a woman for the sole reason that she is a citizen is narrow-minded in the extreme. When a man is discourteous or uncourteous it reacts upon himself not upon the object of his discourtesy.

I do not mean to say that a man should always grant "kiss courtesies" to women for the poor tired shop girl may be going home to don her glad rags to spend the balance of the night on the dance floor, but when he refrains because she is a voter he proves himself pretty small.

Some women and girls, especially those who are in business are very sensible about this matter. They often prefer not to be made conspicuous by having a man relinquish his seat to them. When a woman has worked with men a few years she knows not to expect more than the very ordinary courtesies from them. A business woman said to me recently: "The men we work for and work with never think of us as being the same sort of creatures as their wives and daughters." I have noticed this on street cars, too. An unescorted girl may hang to a strap for hours but let a woman get on escorted by a man and every man in the car will jump to give her his seat.

Laws designed to favor women would have to be repealed if the two sexes were placed on an equal basis. The eight-hour law, for instance, is supposed to be for the protection of women, but it works as much hardship as it does good. I have heard more than one woman say it had been put through so that men could get the overtime work with double pay that women would otherwise share with them. Just recently a woman of my acquaintance, because of the law, lost a good position at an excellent salary and where she had won a large clientele for her employers. The nature of the work made it necessary to have some one who could remain a short time over hours on certain days. This woman would have been glad to do so but she had to step out in favor of a man. The minimum wage law has worked a hardship in many cases too, in that it prevents girls from getting work in which they could learn a trade or business and work up, because the employers cannot afford to pay the minimum wage for help entirely inexperienced.

Today's Poem

THE WINDS OF APRIL
The merry winds of April
Went daffing down the hills,
Their voices were as golden
As were the daffodils.

The joyous winds of April
Went singing in the sun
To wake the blue-eyed violets
Till they opened one by one.

Glad as the winds of April
As light of heart as they,
You wandered down these green-
ing paths
One distant yesterday.

But now the winds of April
Go singing all day long,
You are not here to lend to them
Your laughter or your song.

And play tennis all day long;
But she couldn't help her mother
'Cause she wasn't very strong.

OPPOSE ADVANCE IN POWER RATES

Report Gives Five Points In Dissenting Opinion on
Edison's Request

Commissioners Clyde L. Seavey and Egerton Shore have filed a dissenting opinion on the decision rendered by a majority of three members of the state railroad commission on August 1, 1924, which granted the Southern California Edison company a surcharge of 10 per cent over and above the company's existing rates, the increase to apply to all schedules other than agricultural rates. Commissioners Seavey and Shore base their dissenting opinion upon five points, namely:

The principle of basing rates upon average conditions over a period of years, rather than upon special conditions of any particular year.
The unreasonableness of granting emergency rates in the face of the company's present ability to pay 8 per cent dividends on its common stock.
Imposition charged.
The injustice of imposing upon the company's consumers, the cities, industries and other public utilities dependent upon this company for their electric light and power, of the extra burden of sharing the company's temporary losses in addition to the hardships and losses which they themselves are enduring from the same cause.
The incompleteness of the record in the proceeding, which did not include any report of check made by the commission's engineers.

Point to Surplus
The failure of the majority decision to take into account the accumulated surplus of the company, which, according to the dissenting commissioners' opinion, together with the contingency reserve and the estimated net revenue for the year, enable the company to meet all operating expenses, depreciation annuity, interest on bonds and all dividends on stock, including 8 per cent on its common stock, and still leave a modest surplus.
The dissenting commissioners hold that if any conservation is required it should be made by reduction of the common stock dividend rather than by any temporary increase of rates.

Dean of Army Flyers To Assume New Post

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—Delega commanding Rockwell field since October, 1922, and considered the dean of American military aviators, Major H. H. Arnold, will be relieved in a few weeks as commander here and assigned to duty in Washington, it was learned today. He will be succeeded temporarily by Major Shepler Fitzgerald.

COMMENT That's All

Tests For Motorists
Incompetent Drivers
Hits Three Homers
Glendale White Sox

By Gil A. Cowan

Experts seem agreed that physical and mental tests are necessary for drivers of motor cars in this state, where they abound. There is no question but that numerous incompetent chauffeurs would be weeded from the ranks.

An elevator operator downtown must pass tests and then have eighty-four hours' instruction before being allowed to run a passenger car up and down the shaft. His job is far simpler than that of driving a car, which a speaker yesterday compared to a loaded gun and a locomotive.

It will take a firm stand on the part of legislators this next session at Sacramento to put over laws which will affect nearly 50 per cent of those now driving cars, for California has more physically incompetent drivers than any other state in the union, the writer believes.

For instance, a wreck on Ventura boulevard recently, claiming two lives, was caused by a paroled insane patient of Matteawan, N. Y., asylum. A grade crossing wreck last month in which four lives were lost was traced to a driver who was stone deaf.

Safety Week, as conducted by The Glendale Evening News, will do much to shed light on the true situation relative to accidents.

More on the same subject to follow day by day.

Perhaps you are interested in baseball. It is a mighty healthy game, to which you may introduce the boys and girls without fear of anything more than boisterousness.

Anyway, there was a ball game yesterday at Washington park in which one player for the Vernon club made three home runs.

Jimmy McDowell is that lucky fellow's name. He should be the idol of the small boy who performs on the sandlot.

For Jimmy, they say, did more than Babe Ruth ever has done in one game.

Glendale has a mighty good ball team, by the way, in the White Sox. You can't be far wrong when you are witnessing an athletic contest. Certainly it is not filled with "moral rot."

And you will get a greater kick out of it than wine will give you, it is agreed by those who know. There isn't a headache afterwards, either.

SILK SPORT HAT

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Among the little sports hats shown here today is one model so simple and plain that only a youthful face can bear its severe lines. The hat is of soft silk gathered into a high crown topped by a small ribbon bow. The trim, stiffly wired, is rolling in front.

VALLEY BOOSTERS PLAN BIG RALLY

Old Fashioned Dinner at
Oakmont Country Club
Set for Tonight

The many big developments that are boosting property values in the La Crescenta valley and bringing this section into its own will be outlined tonight by forceful and well-informed speakers, at an old-fashioned dinner at the Oakmont Country club, under auspices of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce.

Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, states H. N. Fowler, president of the association, and one of the prime movers for the development of this section. Arrangements have been made for 200 plates. All residents of the La Crescenta valley and all interested in the development of this unique section are invited by Mr. Fowler to be present at tonight's dinner and learn some of the many projects that are under way to make the valley more widely known and favored.

To Tell Development

Dinner tickets are $1.25. Mr. Fowler states, and can be procured at Behn's drug store, corner of Los Angeles and Montrose avenues; Sears' barber shop, corner of Los Angeles and Piedmont avenues; Easton's grocery store, corner of Los Angeles and Honolulu avenues; Belanger's drug store, corner of Honolulu and Montrose avenues, and Wade's oil station, corner of Honolulu and Pennsylvania avenues.

"You will enjoy attending this dinner and listening to the snappy speakers who will tell you of these important developments in our valley," says Mr. Fowler. "Come and get acquainted with your neighbors. You will find it one of the most profitable affairs you have ever attended."

The Verdugo City Association of Commerce was organized in the spring by H. N. Fowler and his associates, and is the nucleus around which the recent developments of the La Crescenta valley have been formed.

Three Hurt In Plane Crash Will Recover

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 8.—All three victims of a hydroplane crash at the beach here late Wednesday will recover, it was said today; 14-year-old Lila Rita Galloway was least seriously hurt. R. P. Thorpe, another passenger, sustained a slight fracture of the skull, and H. H. Galloway, the pilot, may lose an eye.

VELVET SLIPPERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Velvet slippers are re-appearing in some of the shops. Often they are in beautifully rich shades of dark green, blue and crimson.

Carelessness!

CARELESSLY dropped cigarettes and matches—hastily left camp fires, are the cause of over ninety per cent of the appalling fires which destroy our forests year after year....

A burning cigarette thoughtlessly tossed from some speeding car and fifty, a hundred, a thousand years of beautiful timber is swept aside—turned into a hideous, charred waste of blackened rocks and stumps....

Help the men who are devoting their lives to the care and preservation of our wonderful out door play grounds by forming the "golden rule of carelessness." Never leave an uncovered camp fire—never throw away a burning match, cigarette or cigar....

BREAK THEM IN HALF. Form the habit of breaking every one in half after using and you will never throw away a lighted match in the open....

OFFICIAL LAUDS SCOUT PROGRESS

Growth of Verdugo Council Praised by Executive at Board Meeting

High praise of the accomplishments of the Verdugo Hills District Council, Boy Scouts of America, was given last night at an executive board meeting in R. L. Kent's office on South Brand boulevard by Charles M. Miller, executive of the Twelfth Boy Scout Region, including California, Arizona, Utah and Nevada. Mr. Miller listened to a report on the Verdugo Hills council activities since January 1, 1924. He heard that the membership of the council had increased from 180 boys to 550 boys and from nine troops to thirty troops. Following the report Mr. Miller declared that this is the largest increase in membership and troops that has been shown by any council this year in the four states under his jurisdiction.

Praises Cheesman
He paid high tribute to the ability of Harvey R. Cheesman, local Scout executive, advising the council to send Mr. Cheesman to the national biennial gathering of Scout executives the early part of September in Estes Park, Colorado. He stated that the gathering will be in the nature of an institute with a faculty representing the finest Scout workers in the United States. There will be over 650 Scout leaders gathered for the convocation, offering wonderful opportunity for exchange of ideas in roundtable meetings. Mr. Miller added that of the fifty-five councils in his jurisdiction there are but five not sending their executives.

Mr. Cheesman is to leave Glendale the first of September for the Colorado meeting.

Reports On Camp
At the meeting last night, R. L. Kent presided. F. C. Ayars, camp chairman, reported on camp activities. He stated that 147 boys enjoyed the summer camp this year at Catalina. That number is more than the combined attendance at the camps in 1922 and 1923. He told of plans for the High Sierras trip this month. There will be twenty first class Scouts making the trip with leaders to Mt. Whitney. The trip is limited to first class Scouts only as an incentive for younger boys. Present at the meeting were R. L. Kent, A. R. Eastman, F. C. Ayars, Lyman Clark, Major C. L. Wyman, Harvey R. Cheesman, of Glendale; Emil Swanson of Eagle Rock; A. C. Cox of La Crescenta; A. C. Stover of Tujunga and Mr. Miller.

OPEN AIR PLAYS ATTRACT THROGS

Dramatic Club Wins Success With Presentation of Two Offerings

Reports state that over 500 people attended the presentation last night in Patterson Avenue park of Lord Dunsany's "King Armines" and the playlet "Flittermouse," by the Twenty-Seven Dramatic club, an auxiliary of the drama department of Community Service. The performance was different from other dramatic affairs given in Glendale, and for this reason was particularly enjoyable.

Wesley A. Havermale was director, while Miss Ruth Beckel was in charge of the costuming. Special music for the plays was composed by J. Arthur Myers. J. Albert Hannon directed the orchestra.

Checker Winners at Playground Announced

Under the direction of Miss Alice Foulke the summer playground at the Grand View school is proving most popular with over fifty youngsters in attendance each day. Yesterday a checker contest was closed. There were thirty-five participants with Frank Evans winning first place; Leonard Davis, second, and Frances Green, third. Next week there will be a quilt contest and the following week a net show.

Four Clocks to Tell Time at Postoffice

Four clocks have been installed in the Glendale postoffice, so that the public generally as well as the postoffice staff may be able to know the right time at any hour of the day. One of the clocks was brought from the former quarters on West Broadway, and the other three have been furnished by Dr. C. S. Steelman, 203 South Brand boulevard.

Back From Vacation At Mountain Resort

R. Ernest Tucker of Community Service has resumed his duties after a vacation at Big Bear lake and Lake Arrowhead. He and Mrs. Tucker and children, Bobby and Virginia, motored to the mountain resorts.

HEAVY ICE PACKS DELAYING FLYERS

Sea Base May Be Necessary
As Greenland Port Is Inaccessible Now

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 8.—On account of the heavy ice pack lying off Angmagssalik, Greenland, American army and navy officials may decide to establish a sea base for Lieutenants Lowell Smith and Erik Nelson.

The next move in the round-the-world flight of the two American army flyers depends upon conditions at Angmagssalik. If the Danish supply ship Gertrud is able to force her way through the ice in the next few days the original plan will be carried out of having the two Yankee airmen make that Greenland port their next stopping place.

Wade Gets Plane

Officials are considering whether to wait for the Rask to reach Angmagssalik or to abandon that port as a landing place. If it is decided to eliminate Angmagssalik from the stopping places the only alternatives will be to establish a sea base, as there is no other Greenland port within the flying radius of the machines.

Lieutenant Leigh Wade, one of the original four pilots who was compelled to abandon the flight when his machine was forced down between the Orkneys and Iceland, has been advised that a machine has been fitted out for him with which he can rejoin his comrades either in Nova Scotia or at Boston.

Zanni In India

CALCUTTA, Aug. 8.—Major Zanni, Argentine round-the-world aviator, arrived here today after a daring flight in the rain and through low-lying clouds. Zanni, who left Allahabad yesterday morning, was forced down at Isri, 128 miles from Calcutta, but resumed his journey this morning under adverse conditions.

Police Are Praised For Help at Synod

Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department is in receipt of the following letter from Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, corner of Harvard and Louise streets, thanking him and his department for the cooperation and courtesy extended during the period of July 24 to 31, when the Presbyterian synod of California, Arizona and Nevada was in session here:

"On behalf of the committee on arrangements of the Presbyterian synod, I desire to express to you the sincere appreciation of the splendid services which your department rendered during the meeting of the synod. Throughout every day your officers were on hand, and I am glad to report that so far as I know nothing occurred to mar the pleasure and happiness of the more than 1200 delegates registered here."

"Your officers were uniformly courteous to our people, and the synod officially went on record as thanking the Glendale police department for their very efficient co-operation. Again thanking you, I am, Yours truly, W. E. EDMONDS, Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements."

Jeweler Offers Novel Suggestion for Trade

To stimulate business and make the month of August a banner month for his jewelry business R. L. Cole, jeweler, at 106 East Broadway, has instituted a New Account drive. The main feature of the sale is the fact that the new customers do not have to make any payment down on any article they purchase in the store; Mr. Cole personally makes the first payment himself on any purchase of $15 or more, and then the customer pays the balance in small weekly or monthly payments. It is declared a feasible plan and should draw many new people to the Cole Jewelry store. Mr. Cole states that his jewelry stocks were never larger or the assortment so varied. He has been receiving large shipments of new fall designs in jewelry and now he feels that he has everything to offer the most discriminating shopper.

Special Drop for Air Mail at Postoffice

To facilitate the handling of mail designated for air service, and special delivery letters either for delivery in Glendale or other cities, a special drop has been designated at the new postoffice building on East Broadway between Jackson and Kenwood streets. Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson announced today. All mail to be sent by air service, and all mail for special delivery will receive prompt and special attention if dropped in the designated place, Postmaster Jackson said.

Postoffice Official On Annual Vacation

F. B. Walker, superintendent of mails at the Glendale postoffice, left Glendale today for Laguna Beach, where he will spend two weeks at his cottage, "Sunshine Inn." While Mr. Walker is absent from the office on his annual vacation, W. W. Hunt, assistant superintendent of mails, will be in charge of that branch of the work.

Dorman, White Sox Fielder, Signed to Play With Vernon

Charley Dorman, young slugging outfielder of the Glendale White Sox, has been signed by the Vernon club, and will be given a tryout by the Tigers the rest of the season, according to an announcement made by Secretary Howard Lorenz.

Dorman has been hitting the ball hard and fielding spectacularly for the Glendale outfit and was recommended to the Tigers by Carl Sawyer, former Bengal infielder, and now manager of the White Sox. Dorman bats and throws right-handed.

Dr. Young's Airship Meets With Accident

satisfactory. Mr. Kinner states, but the wind carried them farther than they had estimated and the road loomed up before Dr. Young could check their headway. They struck the road—and turned over, landing exactly upside down, the broken landing gear straight up in the air.

The Argonaut is the fourth plane to crash at the Glendale Airport since the first of the year, according to Mr. Kinner, and serves to stress the fact that unless the city of Glendale removes the power line and closes the road, this field is not safe for flying. At the time the Glendale Airport syndicate took over the property from the city, the promise was made that the wires would be conducted and the road closed, he states.

The Glendale Airport comprises thirty-three acres, with an 1100-foot straightaway. The United States government specification calls for a 2000-foot straightaway, states Mr. Kinner. If the power lines, which head to the city's water wells, were conducted and the road separating the two fields closed, he declares that the field would be satisfactory.

That Glendale may continue to derive the benefit of the large amount of publicity attached to the airport, and that this publicity be of a favorable nature, Mr. Kinner urges that the city take immediate steps to co-operate in making the field safe for local and visiting aviators.

Dr. Young estimates that the

PUBLIC INSPECTS NEW POSTOFFICE

Visitors Are Shown Working
Of All Departments
By Committee

Approximately 1000 persons visited the new Glendale postoffice on East Broadway between Jackson and Kenwood streets yesterday afternoon, when Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson and his staff held "open house" from 2 to 6 o'clock. The manner in which inbound and outgoing mail is handled was explained in detail to the visitors, as well as the modern equipment which has been installed.

The visitors were guided through the large workroom by the members of a special committee named by Postmaster Jackson. The members of the committee were: George Hallett, assistant postmaster; F. B. Walker, superintendent of mails; W. W. Hunt, assistant superintendent of mails; Lloyd Gomes, information clerk; Miss C. E. McAvin, secretary to Postmaster Jackson, and John Boettner, foreman.

Gifts of Flowers

Clerks and carriers of the office united in furnishing the floral displays that caused considerable admiration from the visitors, and all postoffice employees assisted in answering numerous questions, and explaining the use of the new equipment.

The visitors were shown the large loading platform on the alley side, fifty-five feet long, with five doors opening into the workroom; the cancellation machine, capable of cancelling stamps on letters at the rate of 1000 letters a minute; the large rest room for employees on the second floor; the various racks and divisions for certain classes of mail; the sorting bins used by city carriers in making up their route deliveries, and other points of interest.

Modern agricultural implements are not wanted in Chihuahua, Mexico, because the farmers there prefer to buy a mule for $30 or to hire a laborer with mule for $1 a day.

Damage to the Argonaut will amount to at least $500. In addition to a smashed landing gear, the ship sustained a broken propeller, dented radiator, wrenched engine and torn wings.

ADAMS TO DEFEND NEW COAST TITLE

Meets Johnny Trambitis at Hollywood Tonight In
Featured Battle

Johnny Adams, of San Bernardino, will defend his newly acquired Pacific Coast lightweight championship title tonight in the ring at the Hollywood Legion stadium when he meets Johnny Trambitis. Advance dope indicates that Adams is in for a rough voyage over the four-round route and the bright California sun will beam tomorrow on a new champion.

Trambitis comes to Southern California with the distinction of having beat the best mitt slingers of the northwest and still lived. He holds the title of Pacific Northwest champion, so it will be an intersectional battle from the first going to the bitter end, and incidentally, the first intersectional bout of its kind.

On the heels of all this comes the announcement that four lightweights have challenged the winner, and it is up to Matchmaker Tom Kennedy to pick the one who will be given a try at the title. The quartet of crown-seekers are: Phil Salvadore, Frankie Farren, Frankie Burns and our own Dick Hoppe, of Glendale.

Eddie White and Young McEwen will meet in the semi-windup, and it promises to be a thrilling encounter. Sid Marks and Joe Layman will perform in the special spot. There will be four other bouts on the card tonight.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Yankees started well against the Indians with a 7-to-5 victory, Stephenson getting four of Cleveland's twelve hits off Penneck.

Holloway, Detroit star hurler, was outpitched, and the Red Sox won, 4 to 2. The Tigers are now two games behind the Yankees.

The Giants made it five out of six in the series with the Cubs, a rally in the seventh giving them the game by 5 to 3.

Brooklyn beat Pittsburgh, 2 to 6, shattering Yde's winning streak of eight straight.

The Reds scored five runs in the second inning and made it four straight from the Phillies.

Hornby got his sixteenth homer as the Cardinals beat the Braves, 6 to 2.

Walter Johnson subdued the White Sox, 6 to 3. The Senators staged a three-run rally in the tenth.

The Athletics checked the Browns' spurt by taking both ends of a doubleheader, 7 to 3 and 2 to 1. Hauser hits two homers.

BRITISH GOLFERS COMING TO PLAY

England's Best to Compete
In Walker Cup Match
At Garden City

By LAWRENCE PERRY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—New blood, young blood. These are the two salient characteristics of the Walker cup team which the British will send to this country to play American amateurs at Garden City next month.

As British golf goes, the British outfit is distinctly a young team, much younger than any which has competed in the three Walker cup matches to date. Star golfers mature later in the British Isles than in the United States, and so Americans will be impressed by the youthfulness of the British invaders, which after all is comparative—as the English critics are.

Cyril H. J. Tolley, captain of the invading band, is the only member who has had experience playing in America. English golfers now in this country seem to feel that the team will be characterized by a certain element of rawness, but on the other hand, since they will come here with everything to win and little to lose, so far at least as prestige goes, they may find all the advantage which this underdog position in sport is usually supposed to imply.

The veteran of the British outfit is the Hon. Michael Scott, who is 45 years old. W. A. Murray is 38, the next oldest. Major C. C. Hazlet is 33, famous for his almost exclusive use of four clubs, the driver, mid-iron, mashie niblick and putter. O. C. Bristowe's age is set at 32; George T. A. Torrance is 33; Dennis H. Kyle is 27; W. L. Hope is 26; E. F. Storey, Cambridge university team captain, is 25, while Tolley, the captain, is 28.

Holmes, the present champion, is assistance secretary at the home office in London and was unable to go to arrange his affairs to get away for the American trip. Roger Wethered, the 1923 champion, was also unable to leave his business affairs.

The British team will leave about August 20 for this country, and they will bear overseas with them the hope rather than the confidence of British golfers. Since the Americans have won all Walker cup matches thus far, it is felt in England that victory is due, if not overdue. But it is realized, too, that this fact alone does not insure success.

Valley League Needs One Team to Complete

BURBANK, Aug. 8.—The All-San Fernando Valley baseball league needs another team to make an eight club organization with Van Nuys, Lancaster, Owensmouth, Zelzah, San Fernando, Sunland and Burbank now racing to go. Burbank's team meets the P. E. here Saturday and journeys to Owensmouth on Sunday.

WHITE SOX PLAN NEW RECORD LIST

Meet Monrovia Arcadia Elks
Sunday at Local Park
For Big Start

Although suffering their first defeat last Sunday in the last twenty-six starts, the Glendale White Sox are going to start out Sunday to build up another record list of undefeated games. For their opponents next Sunday, Frank Kerwin has secured the Monrovia-Arcadia Elks team, one of the fastest Elks teams in Southern California.

On the mound for the visitors will be Ed Duffy, a former hurler for teams in the Texas and Southern leagues, where he pitched against Reiger, so Sunday's battle will be a revival of other days when these two moundmen worked against each other. Hollis Leake will catch for the visitors, while Joe Sullivan will be on the receiving end for the locals.

The White Sox team will be the same aggregation which carried victory on its banner until it blew up last Sunday and lost to the Navy champs of San Diego by costly errors. Shellenback will play at first, Sawyer at second, Shields at third, Hirtigoyen at short and Orsatt, Dorman and Young in the gardens.

Pedley May Secure Place on Polo Team

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The chances of Eric Pedley, mallet star of the Midwick club of Pasadena, Cal., for a regular place on the American polo four which will defend the challenge cup against the British team next month, appeared "shining bright" today following his brilliant performance in the ninth trial match at Meadowbrook.

The tentative international team defeated the opposition ten goals to three, thanks to the scintillating play of Pedley. The young Californian was responsible for four goals during the first four periods. Pedley made one of the most sensational shots seen on the field in a long time in the first chukker, when he scored the first tally with a stroke from an almost impossible angle while riding at full speed.

FOR MAIN EVENT

COMPTON, Aug. 8.—Joe Pimental and Pico Ramirez will be the main events tonight on the Legion boxing program with five other bouts listed for the fight fans.

WALKER, LEONARD START TRAINING

Tough Battle Expected When
Pair Meet in New York
In Decision Bout

By FAIR PLAY
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Mickey Walker and Benny Leonard, now that arrangements for their New York decision battle have been completed, have settled down to hard training. Mickey in Jersey and Leonard up in the Catskills. This is sure going to be the battle of the year. Walker has seldom fought with the wraps off, but he will have to do it upon this occasion.

He is a tough bird, is Mickey, and Leonard will be up against rugged opposition of a sort he has not faced since he was champion. Betting men have not started to figure the fight yet, or at least they have not arrived at any definite conclusions.

The hitch in the arrangements for the bout was Jimmy Johnston's unwillingness to assume all the financial obligations with respect to the fighters that Rickard had promised.

Willing to Plunge
Tex will plunge big when he wants to hook up champions, and lesser promoters are, naturally, scared when they try to stand on the same ground. As a matter of fact, if the fighters get as much out of this battle as Rickard was going to give them they will have to do it out of their cu. on the receipts. In other words, Johnston is making the fighters gamble with him. But it really does not look to be much of a plunge, as the battle is certain to go big. Rickard, according to the inside dope, is going to get five per cent of the receipts for turning the fight over to New York.

When Carpenter and Desamps were in Jersey seconding Bart Moloney against Philly Krug the other night they were sounded as to their willingness to enter into a Carpenter-Stribling battle. Both were agreeable if the money is right and it looks as though it would be. In the meantime, Stribling is going to fight in Tennessee on August 18. It will be an open-air show. Johnson City and the opponent will be Jack Stone. Stribling is getting a big cut of the receipts, they say.

THREE HOMERS BY J. McDOWELL WIN

Tigers Beat Oaks 7-1 When Christian Allows But
Four Lone Hits

By BEN MCGUIRE
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—There were just three things that won yesterday's ball game for Vernon yesterday and took Oakland down to defeat, 7 to 1. And those three things were one and the same, by one big bambino called Jimmy McDowell, but his name ought to be Homer.

To be pointed, the first baseman outdied Babe Ruth and made three home runs, while Jimmy Christian, on the mound, held the Oaks to four hits. Boshler pitched good ball except in McDowell's case.

The Angels dropped the northern tilt to the San Francisco Seals 10 to 1 yesterday, with Hughes and Weinert working for Krug. Geary had things his own way. Mulligan poled a circuit trip.

Salt Lake lost, 5 to 2, at Portland, with Charley Eckert doing the honors for the Ducks.

Sacramento won, 11 to 6, at Seattle, getting runs off of Williams, Gregg and Plumber with regularity. Canfield was loose for the victors.

Herman, Leopold to Battle at Portland

PORTLAND, Aug. 8.—With a possible bout with Johnny Dundee, featherweight champion, as a reward, Babe Herman and King Leopold are prepared to battle every minute in their ten-round main event tonight at the armory.

Herman, with a record of eighteen knockouts and thirty-three decisions, is the favorite with the "aces," but Leopold's punch is backed by many to win the decision.

Susanne Says She Will Not Quit Game

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Susanne Lenglen, French woman tennis champion, who has been ill, indignantly denied today that she would give up tennis entirely.

"Although I was forced to abandon the games at Wimbledon and the Olympics, I hope to resume matches as soon as I get well," said Mile. Lenglen. "I am now resting up under the doctor's care."

CHAPTER XXII
"My darling," she said, aloud, in which an unmeasured silence, in which they had clung together, "don't let this thing be an unhappiness to you. A girl's love is a wonderful thing—no man is worthy of love like yours. He does like us, he does come to see us more than any else! Just believe that it is all coming right, dear, and it will come right!"

Butterfly, breathing hard, and spent with emotion, rested against her childishly, their cheeks touching.

"I adore you!" she whispered, with a long breath.

And suddenly courage and confidence, almost joy, flooded Hilary's heart with an exquisite peace.

A hundred doubts and misgivings that had made the last weeks uneasy, that had made her definitely unwilling to face the relationship between herself and Craig, unwilling to analyze it, vanished completely. She had feared what his love might bring to her; she was not sure of herself under his mother's and father's eyes, under the eyes of his friends.

But she was always sure of Butterfly; the most exquisite and endearing and brilliant of all humanity kind. It was almost with relief that Hilary turned from the unfamiliar thought of encompassing her own happiness, and began to plan once more for that of Butterfly.

She had cherished a little dream of herself as young Mrs. Spaulding; of what this brilliant match would mean for a quiet little secretary from the Spaulding factory. There were a few days of strangeness and pain while she altered this dream, and put her wonderful little sister in her place.

But even this did not upset a nature as tempered as Hilary's. Her one great fear was that Craig might not seriously care for either of them. If Butterfly must be heart-broken, she decided, then all the more reason for the European trip. They would get away together, now, at once, if that should happen that would convince them that Craig had gone out of their lives.

Otherwise—well, the long planned career must be temporarily abandoned. Mother and Father could wish for a good man's Dora than that of a good man's wife, safe from need of financial worry forever, beloved, admired, socially secure. Young Mrs. Spaulding would be no less lovely a wife and mother because she would charm her husband's friends with her violin. And Hilary's self? But she would not think of herself. She would—oh, there were a thousand things that she might do. She might travel for a little while.

The thought of a steamer deck, without Butterfly, would choke her at this point. No Butterfly, and no Craig, with his smooth dark head, and his kindly, gray-eyed smile, and his kindly, interesting voice. She must manage to live without those two—for while.

"But they will have children," Hilary breathed to herself, over her desk, "darlings! And then I can be with them, part of the time, anyway—"

One afternoon, two or three days after her talk with Butterfly in the moonlight, Craig came to her desk with some important letters. When Hilary's clever, swift right hand had transcribed them, he still lingered for a few minutes, in his usual mood of friendly interest in what concerned her.

"Frightful weather!" he commented. "I was out on a yacht, all day yesterday, off Long Beach. And I wished a hundred times that you and Butterfly were there!"

"I always feel that one would be terribly dependent upon the other people on a trip like that," Hilary observed, thoughtfully. Craig for the hundredth time was struck with surprise at her wisdom.

"These were not agreeable people, and we ate and drank too much!" he confessed, with his sudden smile.

"Ah, well, that's what I'd be afraid of," Hilary said. "Dora and I, and the Rennys got an old boat," she went on, "and went up the Ranchoas—oh, miles. We swam—it seems to me the water never was so heavenly, and we cooked lunch at that lovely little beach up where the old dredgers are."

"With seventy-five other people!" Craig criticized, in his turn.

"Oh, no!" she said, surprised. "Only two other parties; a nice old doctor and his wife from Camden; he was nearly blind and she read to him; their son was decorated in the war, and they have five grandchildren. And then a dear Swedish mother and father with four little children. They were so afraid they'd drown, and Dora and little Jim Renny kept rescuing them! Boats went by, of course, but the people were

Views and Theatres News Notes From Studios

Compiled by Members of The Evening News Staff

The answer to "Why Men Leave Home" is at the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, where nightly this clever play is showing to packed houses, according to Manager J. A. Menard. The location is between Brand boulevard and Central avenue.

Mr. Menard declares the play to be clean throughout and entertaining to theatre-goers of all ages. The author of "Why Men Leave Home" is Avery Hopwood, one of the most successful of American playwrights. He makes marriage the subject of much choice humor, revealing the secret of why a man can be a grouch at home and a "regular dear" at the office.

He was watching her with a half-smile. "Does it ever strike you that you are an unusual person?" he asked. She flushed, shook her head almost as if she were displeased. "Well, are you and Butterfly to be home tonight?" Craig smiled. "I have two alligators for you, and a box of taffies for her birthday. And be sure you tell her that I missed you yesterday!"

The sudden flame of courage in Hilary's heart was like a prayer. They were both standing now; she went into the outer office on some errand; Craig meditating a drive, perhaps with them both, before it was time for dinner. The air smelled heavily of cooking fruit.

"Shall I tell her that, Craig?" she asked, trembling, and with sudden significance.

He looked at her, surprised, and a little confused.

"She's only eighteen," Hilary faltered, sudden tears in her eyes. "I—I don't want you to hurt her, Craig!"

His face grew grave. He walked to the window, looked out upon the cluttered, dusty yard, the men pushing small trucks loaded with bright, unlabelled tins of fruit.

Had he analyzed where his feet were leading him, even an hour ago, he would have said that it was to this earnest girl in the thin brown dress, with her bright face pale, and her blue eyes clouded with the heat. But her words, her tears, brought to his mind a vision of Dora, Dora frail and exquisite, Dora who seemed to him child and friend in one; and with a great rush of tenderness and humbleness and joy, he knew the truth.

"Hilary," he said, gently and seriously, coming back to stand beside her. "I don't want to hurt her—God forbid. You know what I want. Will you—will you let me tell her?"

Now that it was done—now that it was done—Hilary felt only an inclination to cry. To cry, and have him comfort her—to have someone, at last, share with her the loneliness of living! Her knees felt weak, and her head confused; she laid cold fingers for a second on his hand.

"Come tonight!" she said in

Uncle Wiggily

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TEAKETTLE

Mr. Longears was sitting in his hollow stump bungalow one morning, having come up from the seashore to get himself a new straw hat, when he heard the sound of voices near the back steps.

"I tell you he is in there!" said one voice.

"I tell you he isn't!" whispered another voice. "He's down at the seashore on his vacation!"

"My goodness! I wonder who this is!" thought Uncle Wiggily, sort of turning pale around his pink nose. "It may be the Fox and Bob Cat talking about me."

Nurse Jane, who had also come up from the seashore, with Uncle Wiggily, to do some shopping at the fifteen and sixteen cent store, wasn't in the bungalow just then. So Uncle Wiggily carefully looked out through a crack in the back door.

"I tell you he is here!" he heard the voice say again. Then he saw Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the two puppy dog boys, and everything was all right.

"Hello, doggies!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, opening the door. "What did you want of me?"

"Will you please let us take a tea kettle?" barked Jackie, and laughing at his brother who had said the rabbit gentlemen wasn't at home.

"What in the world are you going to do with a tea kettle?" asked Mr. Longears. "Are you going to make an automobile?"

"We are going to play steam engine," answered Peetie. "We want to put some water in the kettle and hang it over a camp fire. We have made down by the brook. When the water gets hot it will boil, steam will come out of the spout of the kettle and it will look just like a make-believe engine."

"Well, here is Nurse Jane's tea kettle," said Uncle Wiggily, taking it from the stove and giving it to the doggie boys. I mean he gave them the kettle—not the stove, of course. "Be careful you don't burn yourselves," he told the puppies.

"We will!" they barked, and away they ran with the kettle. Uncle Wiggily could hear them laughing and barking as they played steam engine down at the brook. Then, all of a sudden, Nurse Jane came back.

"Where is my tea kettle?" she cried, not seeing it on the stove. "I let Jackie and Peetie take it to play engine with," answered Uncle Wiggily.

"Well, you'll have to go get it away from them," said Nurse Jane. "I want to boil water for tea."

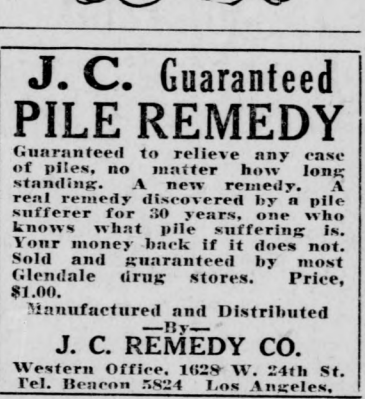

Uncle Wiggily went down to the brook where Jackie and Peetie were playing. By this time the kettle was boiling over the fire. But Jackie had stuck a cork in the kettle spout so the steam wouldn't puff out until he was ready.

Hotter and hotter blazed the fire. Harder and harder boiled the water in the kettle, making much steam. Until, all of a quickness, just as Uncle Wiggily got there, the steam pushed the cork out of the kettle spout.

"Bang! Bang!" The cork hit Uncle Wiggily on the end of his pink nose and he cried: "Wowchie wow!" just like the Fox.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! We're so sorry!" barked Jackie when he saw what had happened. "We didn't know you were coming!"

"And I didn't know that cork

COMMITTEES TO STUDY BOUNDARY

Borough Problem Will Form
Subject at Meetings
Planned for Fall

EAGLE ROCK, Aug. 8.—Committees appointed from every organization in the northwest section of Los Angeles will study the borough problem and decide what is best to do. As the result of the recent meeting of the Occidental Valley Improvement association at the United Presbyterian church in Glassell Park. These committees will meet together in the fall and go into the matter in full, it was decided.

About seventy people were in attendance, and fourteen of these represented Eagle Rock. Among those who presented their arguments in favor of the proposed borough as outlined by the local Chamber of Commerce were Prof. John C. Shedd, representing the C. of C., Mrs. Mary D. Fiske and Mrs. Harold Ide Cruzan, of the Women's Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. John C. Reiter, president of the local P. T. A., Walter Mann, representing the Kiwanis Club, C. C. Reynolds, appearing for the Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce, H. G. Warren of the Eagle Rock Realty Board, and Page Noll, Judge H. I. Cruzan, and the real estate dealers, Osterhout & Rasch, delegates at large. A number of others represented Eagle Rock.

Follow Contours
The local Chamber of Commerce favors a borough which is mapped out to follow the contour of the district included. Where hills have made a natural division, account has been taken of this and the section portioned off to be fair to the interest of each district. It includes the district encompassed by San Rafael Hill on the North, the San Fernando Road on the West, the Los Angeles River on the South, and the Rockdale District, along the hills, back of the campus to Avenue 49 or Avenue 50, to Alice or Division streets, roughly outlining the boundaries.

Mrs. R. J. Tepper and daughters, of Hermosa avenue, are in Riverside, where they will stay for six months. They will stop at the Anchorage Park Inn. While they are away their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Yutz.

Mrs. Maybelle Mandell of Hermosa avenue, have left for San Jose, where she will spend a two-weeks' vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Shinhan of that city. Mr. Shinhan was formerly the organist of the Cinema theatre in Los Angeles.

UNIT OF CHURCH WILL COST $7500

Evangelicals Plan to Erect
Place of Worship on Site in Burbank

BURBANK, Aug. 8.—The first unit of a large Evangelical church is to be erected at once on the corner of Cypress avenue and Fifth street, announces Rev. George Streit, of 619 Fairmount road, pastor. The cost will be $7,500. The church will be of Spanish design, with stucco exterior.

The decision to erect the church at this time was made at a recent meeting of the Church Extension board which met in Los Angeles. The first unit, for which plans have about been completed and ready to submit to contractors, call for a building of six class rooms and an auditorium that will seat about 200 people.

Faith in Future
Rev. Streit says of the work: "The officials of the Evangelical church have much faith in the progress and future development of Burbank as is attested by their purchase of the site for the proposed church and also the Home for the aged, which represents an investment with the proposed improvements, no less than $100,000."

When speaking of the church, the new minister said the plan was to design the building complete, something after one of the prominent churches in Pasadena, which has a large central auditorium with wings on each side, the unit which is to be built now for the Burbank church to constitute one of the wings.

Mrs. George Schaubel of Chicago, has arrived in this city to make a long visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schaubel of Walnut avenue. All of them spent a pleasant week-end at San Diego and other points south of here.

Japan has purchased $2,000,000 worth of American electric locomotives and substation power equipment recently, in connection with railway electrification projects.

NOVEL BARBECUE AIDS CLUB FUNDS

Mrs. Viola Waddell Hostess
At Garden Party Held
At Glendale Home

LA CRESCENTA, Aug. 8.—The novel pit barbecue and garden party given by Mrs. Viola Waddell at her home at 1229 West Wilson avenue, Thursday, netted the sum of $27.50, which was turned over to Mrs. John Martin, treasurer of the La Crescenta Woman's club for the building fund.

The members of the club and their guests were seated under the beautiful trees in the garden of Mrs. Waddell's Spanish home. Here they were treated to the fun of seeing small children drive snowy white ducks around the grounds, little Master George Perry Starkey attired in lavender suit with a smart paper cap to match, and little Miss Muriel Logan in pink with cap to match, were the drivers and elicited much applause.

Historic Costume
Mrs. Alice Reed, in quaint old costume of the early eighteenth century, gave a group of numbers, the first of which was "Crimoline Days." A medley of all the old-time favorites proved most popular. Her third song was heartily applauded, being "Look For the Silver Lining."

Miss Elizabeth Talbot Martin gave an original dance under the trees, dancing in and out under their spreading branches.

Voice Is Restored
Another favorite with La Crescenta club women was Mrs. Alma d'Harcourt, who came up from Long Beach, where she is at present engaged in musical work, to do her bit for the benefit of the club. Her first number, "Roses of Picardy," was delightful. "Smilin' Through" was particularly well chosen for the setting, while "Trees" was exceptionally beautiful. Mrs. d'Harcourt had lost her voice through strenuous operatic work and when she came to La Crescenta three years ago it was to rest and regain her voice. Now critics and teachers pronounce her voice as fully restored.

After this enjoyable program, the guests were served with delicious barbecued sandwiches.

A Mexican sauce was spread over the meat, giving the true Mexican finish to the sandwiches and punch was served the guests with this course. Many of the guests bought sandwiches to take home for the family, so popular were they.

Those assisting the hostess were Mrs. Fred Czerniski, Anna Aiken, Mark Collins, John Martin and Mrs. Virginia Poorman. The roof garden was visited during the afternoon by all the guests.

Tujunga Voters Hold Anti-Wright Meeting

TUJUNGA, Aug. 8.—An anti-Wright meeting was held here at the Garden of the Moon by a number of men who are opposed to Supervisor Wright's re-election to office. The hub around which the local antipathy swings is the action of the supervisor in the recent incorporation campaign, in which it was charged that Wright did not act for the best interests of the voters interested in incorporation.

Motorists Are Urged To Help Fight Fires

TUJUNGA, Aug. 8.—The Tujunga Valley Realty Board passed a resolution at the last meeting asking all local motorists to carry shovels in their cars as a precautionary measure in preventing brush fires. With shovels and sand as practically the only method of fighting brush fires, it was pointed out that motorists could quickly respond to fire calls if they were equipped with shovels with which to work.

Open Cutouts Lead To Sixteen Arrests

TUJUNGA, Aug. 8.—Sixteen arrests were made here for speeding and driving with open cutouts on Michigan avenue. Officers Parrot and Tessmore of the county motorcycle squad made the arrests, following numerous complaints against the open cutout nuisance.

COLORADO BOULEVARD PROPERTY OWNERS ATTENTION!

Property owners are being solicited for signatures for Lighting Standards by parties fraudulently claiming to have the recommendations of the Board of Directors of the COLORADO BOULEVARD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION or of certain Directors.

The Lighting Standards recommended by your Committee of seven members of the Association are specified as Marbelite No. 1900 and are manufactured by the Marbelite Corporation, located in Los Angeles. Any petition offered you for other standards is not in accordance with any recommendations of this Board or Committee.

Read carefully any petition offered you. The petition for Marbelite standards now being circulated by the Marbelite representative and which has the full recommendation of the Board of Directors and your Committee also requests the City Council to make an immediate survey for lighting standards and also requests the City Electrical Department to bid on the work of installation.

Your Board of Directors and Committee have made a careful investigation and recommend that a strong petition for Marbelite Lighting Standards go to the City Council without delay.

East In Urgent Need Of Cannery Products

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 8.—Indications were seen today that California will be unable to supply the demand for canned goods in the east, including fish and fruit and olives and vegetables. The movement by the water route is starting earlier than ever, it being stated by traffic men that eastern jobbers have exhausted their supplies.

CHINESE FLAVOR

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The latest wrist bags often have a decidedly Chinese air. The long mandarin tassels, the bits of carved crystal or jade and the embroidered dragons emphasize the present mode for oriental things.
